WORK EXPERIENCE

I have previously had work experience as a nursery teaching assistant working with different departments in the school.
I have previously worked with Freeman Events Partners at the 2018 Formula 1 British Grand Prix where I had to give guidance to visitors and distribute maps for the event.

ADDITIONAL SKILLS

I have good knowledge on Microsoft Office programmes including Word and Excel. I have good keyboard skills. I have also had experience on working on a television set before working on scripting, vision mixing and creating running orders.

What do you hope to gain out of an Internship?

I hope to gain experience working as part of a top international news organisation alongside a team of professionals. I hope to be able to expand my skillset working in this face paced industry so that I can continue to work as part of it in the future.

What do you want us to know about you?

I am a highly motivated person with a passion for international news and current affairs. I also have a keen interest to work in international news journalism and I have strong written communication skills. I am a good individual worker and team worker and I work well to solve problems as I have good critical thinking skills.

What is your proudest achievement?

My proudest achievement is my work I did with the Royal British Legion between 2013 and 2017 while I was a member of the Army Cadet Force. Throughout this time, I took part in many fundraisers for the charity including bag packing at local supermarkets and by selling poppies during Remembrance at shopping centres and at my school. I would also help plan and host assemblies to help raise awareness of the charity and I had the honour of being chosen to lay the Poppy Wreath twice at my local Remembrance service.

What was the most important news story of the last 12 months and why? Tell us in 250 words or less.

2020 has seen monumental changes in the Black Lives Matter movement. On 25th May 2020 millions of people around the world witnessed the brutal murder of George Floyd by four police officers in Minneapolis. Many people were shocked and outraged by the injustice that they had seen happen to George Floyd and this sparked protests to happen not only in The United States of America but all around the world.

In the United Kingdom, thousands of people attended Black Lives Matter protests across hundreds of locations around the country, not only to stand in solidarity of the murder of George Floyd, but also for the injustice towards the Black community by the United Kingdom's justice system. These protests brought many systemic racial issues to light that are present in the country. People were protesting for those who had been killed in British police custody and for those who were victims from the Windrush scandal as well as the families and people who lost their lives in the Grenfell Tower inferno.

There have been positive changes as a result of these protests. The Mayor of London has launched a scheme where there will be investigations into the history of statues to check their involvement in slavery. Also, many people are now educating themselves on Black history and the injustice that people have faced in the past and are still facing today. However, there is still a lot of progress yet to be made on the path to equality for all people.
